Re: Safety Light Corporation, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Steinmetz:

Lockheed Martin Corporation ("Lockheed Martin") is in receipt of EPA's CERCLA 104(e) request letter for information concerning hazardous substances or radioactive waste purportedly originating from General Electric Company ("GE") that may have been released into the environment at the Safety Light Corporation Site in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania. We understand that it is EPA's belief, based on GE's assertion that Lockheed Martin is the successor in interest of operations associated with shipment entries in ledgers provided by EPA, that Lockheed Martin may be able to provide relevant information. While we are currently investigating the validity of GE's assertion, we intend to concurrently comply with and respond to EPA's request out of an abundance of caution as an alleged responsible party.

This letter is to confirm that EPA has agreed to provide Lockheed Martin a 30-day extension to the original due date for its response to EPA's Section 104(e) request. Thus, Lockheed Martin's response is due by April 8, 2006, or 30 days after the original due date of March 9, 2006.

We appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

C. Douglas Goins
